Mysureans invested Rs. 24 cr. in IMA jewels

- Investment ranges from Rs. 1 lakh to Rs. 55 lakh
- Scam could be worth Rs. 8,000 to Rs. 10,000 crore

IMA scam victims seen in front of Udayagiri Police Station this morning.

Mysuru, June 14 (RKB,DM & BCT)- Mysureans have invested a whopping 24 crore (initial estimate only) in Bengaluru-based blade company 'I Monetary Advisory (IMA)'. This has come to light after the Police scanned over 700 complaints filed by cheated investors in Mysuru and calculated the amount mentioned in the complaints.

Yesterday, a special counter was set up at Jabbar Function Hall at Udayagiri close to Udayagiri Police Station to receive the complaints and the complaints are growing by the hour.

Today, the counter was closed due to an event at the Hall. It is estimated that more than 1,500 people from Mysuru and surrounding areas have invested in the fraudulent company.

Udayagiri Police Inspector Umesh said that all the complaints received will be compiled and collated carefully and later on will be forwarded to the SIT in Bengaluru, which is probing the scam.

The IMA scam is Karnataka's version of Sarada chit fund scam that rocked West Bengal. This multi-crore ponzi scheme thrived on a politician-police-criminal nexus in the form of IMA, has rocked Karnataka and most of the investors are from Muslim community who have put in their hard-earned money, jewellery and savings into the hands of fraudsters. Mohammad Mansoor Khan, the promoter of IMA Group of Companies, is absconding and is believed to have fled to Dubai on June 8.

In the last 72 hours, more than 20,000 panic-stricken investors have registered Police complaints in Bengaluru and the stream of distraught investors continues to pour in from across the State and neighbouring States too.

It is feared the scam could be worth Rs. 8,000 to Rs. 10,000 crore.

The money invested by individuals from Mysuru is said to be in the range of Rs. 1 lakh and Rs. 55 lakh. Since Wednesday, the Udayagiri Police had issued more than a thousand formatted complaint forms to the IMA investors.

Talking of Walking

Physicians and physical-fitness buffs seem to have unshakable faith in walking as an exercise, offering numerous health benefits to people of all ages under well-marked levels of their fitness. Their prescription, as simple as walking for as short as 30 minutes in a day is receiving appreciable response nowadays by all cross-sections of society, particularly in urban spaces, unarguably a welcome sign, despite the unstoppable expansion of vehicular population, not excluding the rural regions. Bicycles, which tended to virtually become extinct during the recent past decades also seem to be staging a come back, thanks to measures such as Trin-Trin facility introduced in Mysuru. The civic authorities too have pitched in to promote the walking habit in the citizens by creating exclusive track for walkers on some stretches of roads and also lakesides. However, the condition of footpaths on the roadsides continues to be inhospitable to walkers, particularly senior citizens, not to forget the risk of getting knocked down by automobiles while crossing from one side of the road to the other.

The land's philosophers and luminaries of the spiritual world are known to have walked tirelessly singing lyrics of their own composition and delivering discourses several centuries ago, among whom Adi Shankara (eighth century) stands out. Maybe, absence of automobiles and motorable roads to commute compelled them to resort to walking, unlike their counterparts of our time, who are jet-set.

While a typical urban resident working in various professions including the leisurely office-goer is known to disfavour walking due to many compulsions of city life, a typical home-maker is known to walk several kilometres in a day, the entire distance covered within the four walls of her dwelling. The home-maker, incidentally, is a living proof of the validity and utility of the recommended 10,000 steps-a-day, contributing to extend the life span with the added reward of staying healthy. Studies carried out under expert guides have shown that active people have lower incidences of cardiac problems, Type-2 diabetes and also obesity.

Preferring to reach places within city limits by smoke-emitting automobiles over walking seems to have given the point of polluting air a big miss. The morning scene near many parks of Mysuru, namely walkers taking to automobiles to commute from their homes, seems to mock at the indisputable prescription of walking for staying healthy as well as extending life span.

POPULATION IS NOT A PROBLEM BUT OUR GREATEST STRENGTH: We are taught from school onwards that India's population is a big problem and we need to control it. This is wrong. If our population grows and resources stay the same, of course there will be scarcity. But this is never the case. All we need to do to learn this lesson is look at our cities! This mistaken thinking has had savage humanitarian consequences in India. Think of the unborn millions over the decades because of our brutal family planning policies. How many Tendulkars, Rahmans and Satyajit Rays have we lost? Think of the immoral coercion still carried out on poor people across the country. And finally, think of the condescension of our politicians, asserting that people are India's problem — but always other people, never themselves. This arrogance is India's greatest problem, not our people. — Amit Varma in Sunday Times

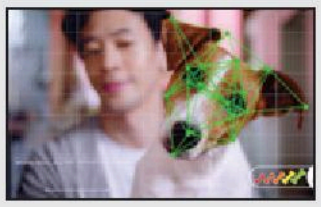
Face recognition technology to allow dogs to shop



Rio: Petz, a Brazilian pet shop chain has combined face recognition technology and artificial intelligence to create a groundbreaking platform that allows dogs to buy their favorite products by analysing their facial expressions.

Well, thanks to Pet-Commerce, an online pet-store created by Brazil's Petz brand, for allowing the dog to choose his favorite products. All you have to do is hold an internet connected camera to the dog's face and allow the AI powering Pet-Commerce to analyze its facial expressions as you scroll through the different products listed on the site. Once it detects excitement, it automatically adds the product to your shopping cart and you can finalise the transaction when you're done.

Chatbot to message girlfriend!

Beijing: A busy computer programmer in China caused quite a stir on social media recently after posting that he created a custom chatbot to answer his girlfriend's texts 24/7 on his behalf.

The busy man identified as Li Kaixiang, who works as a software development engineer for Chinese internet giant, said that he was often too busy at work to answer his girlfriend's daily texts, but he also didn't want to hurt her feelings by ignoring her, so he came up with the idea to create a chatbot to answer and send messages on his behalf. He even posted some screenshot of the chatbot's conversation with his girlfriend and it definitely looks like the software did pretty good. He also mentioned that on the first day, it exchanged around 300 texts with his girlfriend.

Some people criticized Li Kaixiang for claiming to be too busy to answer his girlfriend's texts, while apparently having the time to work on a custom chatbot. Other warned him that his partner may fall in love with the chatbot.

Why should I take Serrapeptase?

Serrapeptase is a powerful proteolytic enzyme. It is produced by silkworms to dissolve their cocoons. Serrapeptase works in the human body to dissolve arterial plaque as well as any non-living tissue, including blood clots and cysts. It works as an anti-pain and anti-inflammatory, much like aspirin, without the side effects.

City Top Cop's safety guidelines to schools: Some suggestions

Sir,

This refers to our City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna issuing a very comprehensive safety guidelines to all schools which is timely and commendable (SOM dated May 11). I went through it and wish to suggest one more addition to the list.

I do not know whether it is mandatory that all school buses must have CCTVs and hence it has been omitted. But even so I feel it should be listed so that it is included, if not mandatory, as an abundant precaution.

In addition, the CCTVs should be regularly monitored to see that they are in working condition as several instances of its failure has been reported in the media. Besides, the possibility of it being tampered with ulterior motives cannot be ruled out. Therefore, this aspect needs to be emphasised.

II

Sir,

It is gratifying to know that the City Top Cop has issued safety guidelines to all schools (SOM dated May 11). It should be a role model.

One of the guidelines is: "During school hours, the drivers and other vehicle staff must remain in buses, instead of loitering inside the school compound."

A prolonged "static" posture is not advisable. It leads to discomfort and joint stresses, high muscle forces, reduced blood flow, fatigue, shoulder and neck pain, back pain, etc. On the contrary, it is advisable to move around into different postures. The exercise improves blood circulation and reduces muscle fatigue. Such disorders are classified as "Musculoskeletal Disorders". They are mostly irreversible.

In the present case, the "sitting" posture is the one that matters most. It is one of the most awkward postures and, therefore, should be minimised. Sitting inside a bus for hours together and, then, driving a vehicle will make the situation worse.

The best thing would be to ask the staff (crew) to stay in a nearby rest room and, also, go round the bus, by turns, to keep a watch. The school management should provide the necessary facility.

The Mysuru City Police Commissioner may please amend the guideline, accordingly.

Land conversion, plan approval process can now be done online

Bengaluru, June 14- In a first for the country, the State Government yesterday launched an online process for change of land use and building plan and layout approvals. Launching the online initiative, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy said it is a part of the State's efforts to bring transparency in administration and help people get the necessary clearances without running from one Department to the other.

He launched 118 websites that would enable citizens to get building plan approvals, diversion of land use change and other related permissions through online submissions, avoiding middlemen and delays. These websites and software integrate 14 Departments and forms can be submitted online. The status of their applications will be shared through SMS.

CM H.D. Kumaraswamy launching the website on land and building plan approval system at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru yesterday as Minister U.T. Khader, BBMP Mayor Gangambika Mallikarjun and Additional Chief Secretary (Urban Development) Mahendra Jain look on.

The online process also allows applicants to track the status of their applications for land and building plans. An individual can submit applications through the citizen portal, which will be followed by computer verification, online payment and approval within a stipulated time.

An applicant can finally avail a computer-generated certificate with a digital signature. This process is expected to improve the 'ease-of-doing-business' ranking and hasten the land conversion process for those planning to use agricultural land for commercial development.

Rising complaints from landowners about harassment and delay by Revenue Offices prompted the Government to simplify the conversion process by using sworn-in affidavits. "This initiative of the Urban Development Department will also enable the Government to spot tax evaders and punish them. This will naturally increase revenue to the Government," said U.T. Khader, Urban Development Minister.

"The Government is also working on GIS-based master plans, affordable housing and more incentives for electric vehicles through parking and charging points," Khader said.

The Government will soon announce a new policy to regulate Paying Guest (PG) accommodation, the Minister added.

Over a cup of evening Tea

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

My Bus Driving Days !

Last week my teacher Dr. Dewapriya Galagali wrote a letter to SOM about an incident when out of sheer necessity I had to drive a bus. It brought back to me fond memories of an almost forgotten era, more than forty years ago when I was a medical student at Gulbarga. Dr. Galagali was a Professor of Anaesthesia there and what drew us close were our common passions — photography, cars and a love for tinkering with anything mechanical that had a propensity to breakdown at the drop of a hat !

When Dr. J.H. Jammihal, a Professor of Paediatrics, announced that he wanted to dispose off his ageing Standard Herald car, I noticed a bright gleam in Dr. Galagali's eyes. With more than a little encouragement from me and much against the wishes of his wife who was firmly opposed to the idea, he acquired the elderly beauty for Rs. 8,000 which was a princely sum then. Despite its rather temperamental disposition, it remained with him for a few years, offering us both a golden opportunity to tinker with its very simple innards. It is a different matter that we pushed it around more than we actually drove it, with each one of us taking turns to sit at the wheel when tired of the pushing!

Now coming to photography, Dr. Galagali then had a Viogtlander Vitessa folding camera while I had a Yashica J3 SLR with which we did much photography, completely unmindful of the rolls and rolls of film that we used up at a time when photography was considered the most expensive of all hobbies, next only to Formula One racing! When one of his friends who had come down from France wanted to sell away his Nikkormat camera along with its set of three lenses I decided that it was a Godsend opportunity for me to upgrade from my rather outdated Yashica for which I had just one normal lens. Possessing a professional Nikon system was then my biggest dream and I used to always slurp with glee whenever I saw its advertisements in the glossy pages of the National Geographic Magazine.

So I dashed off a telegram to my father that said: 'Dr. Galagali's friend selling Nikkormat camera with three lenses. Immaculate condition. Just five thousand. Must buy. Owner going abroad tomorrow.' My father, who was himself a photography buff, was kind enough to reply the same evening. His telegram said: 'Go ahead. Let Dr. Galagali make payment. Sending cheque soon.'

My joy knew no bounds that day and once in my hands that workhorse of a camera with its set of three lenses offered me an opportunity to do much serious photography for more than two decades before it was forced into retirement, not because of old age but because of the paradigm shift from film to the digital format of today. It was with this camera that I took the first pictures of my wife soon after our marriage and also of our two children soon after their arrival! It now resides on the shelves of our living room showcase in the company of the dozens of my vintage cameras!

Just a few years ago Dr. Galagali, who now resides in Mysuru, walked into our home and garlanded me with two of his high-end professional cameras, a Rolliflex and a Mamiya, announcing that they were his gift for my collection. However for some inexplicable reason his good old Viogtlander was sadly missing from this gift hamper. Who knows, maybe he has saved it for a later and more memorable occasion like my sixty-fifth birthday!

Now, coming back to my bus driving, the first time I drove a bus in my life was when our college organised a tour of Chikkamagalur, Belur, Halebeed and Shravanabelagola. The Leyland bus we travelled in was a new model called the 'Comet' which was much longer than most other busses of that era. And, the driver from the plains of Gulbarga had absolutely no driving experience on tortuous and narrow ghat roads. At the very first two hairpin bends on the road to Kemmangundi he scraped both the front ends of the bus very badly against the rocky embankment and at the third turn he got the bus wedged tightly into the bend and became visibly nervous. So the moment I suggested to him that I had a licence to drive heavy vehicles and I could get both him and his bus out of the predicament, he leapt at the offer and leapt down from the driving seat! After that it was smooth sailing all the way up and down the hill with me at the wheel! That day I became a hero with my college mates, especially the girls, who outnumbered the boys on the trip and naturally felt very ecstatic!

The second chance for me to drive a bus came very soon afterwards, thanks to the knowledge which my friends had that I was a capable bus driver. Our college had just then acquired a bus which used to be driven in two shifts by two drivers, Shankar and Lohith. It so happened that when one of them had gone on long leave the other developed jaundice and had to go on sick leave. Consequently the college bus stopped plying and students who used to avail of the service started prevailing upon the management to rope in a temporary driver. For some reason this was not be accomplished for quite a few days. That was when the students became restless and approached Dr. V. Ramachandra Rao, the Professor of Anatomy and the Students' Welfare Officer, requesting him to allow me to drive the bus since I had a valid licence.

Dr. Rao, who was one of the teachers who had accompanied us on our recent tour and had seen how proficient I was at the job of a bus driver, had no other option than to agree to the suggestion, just to placate them! So I became a bus driver for the second time and continued in that unpaid post for quite some days till one of the drivers reported back for duty. All was well after that but the rumour that I had a hand in instigating my friends to come up with their unique suggestion took quite some time to subside on the campus.

Well, rumours are rumours but having heard it so often I also have a strong suspicion to this day that there was more than an element of truth in it !

Grand procession marks St. Antony Feast

K.R. Nagar, June 14 (KTR& KS)- The annual feast of St. Antony at Dornahalli in K.R. Nagar, coming under Mysore Diocese, was celebrated in a grand manner yesterday. Thousands of people from across the country and from abroad irrespective of caste and creed gathered in large numbers to honour the Saint. They expressed gratitude for the favours bestowed on them and fulfilled their vow to the Saint.

Bishop of Mysuru Rev. K.A. William, St. Antony's Shrine Parish Priest Rev. Fr. Dr. R. Arogyaswamy, former Principal of St. Philomena's College, Mysuru, Rev. Fr. Dr. Vincent, ...Belthangadi Bishop Rev. Dr. Lawrence Makuli conducted special prayers and addressed the gathering.

The statue of St. Antony was taken in a procession in a decorated chariot on the main streets of Doranahalli during which the devotees celebrated by bursting crackers in the evening, bringing down the curtains on the annual feast.

The celebrations for the feast started on June 4, with several rituals and special prayers lined up on all days, led by Parish Priest Dr. R. Arogyaswamy.

K.R. Nagar Inspector Raju, Sub-Inspector Subramanya and staff provided security. KSRTC had deployed additional buses to Dornahalli for the benefit of a large number of devotees.

HDK expands Cabinet, inducts two Independents

Bengaluru, June 14- The much-awaited expansion of the State Cabinet of the JD(S)-Congress coalition Government, took place with the induction of two Ministers at a simple ceremony at Raj Bhavan in the State Capital this afternoon.

R. Shankar

H. Nagesh

R. Shankar, who was elected on a KPJP ticket from Ranebennur Assembly segment of Haveri District and H. Nagesh who was elected as an Independent from Mulbagal (SC) segment of Kolar district in 2018 Assembly polls, were the newly-inducted Ministers.

Governor Vajubhai Vala administered the oath to both, who swore in the name of God.

This is the second stint as Minister for Shankar as he had previously served in the coalition Government as Forest Minister, before being dropped from the Cabinet about six months ago.

Both are first time MLAs, who have extended their support to the ruling coalition Government.

Prior to being inducted into the Cabinet, Shankar merged the KPJP (Karnataka Prajakiya Janata Party) on which ticket he was elected, with the Congress. Shankar handed over the merger letter to CLP leader and former CM Siddharamaiah just a couple of hours before he was inducted into the Cabinet.

It is learnt that the two were inducted under the Congress quota of Ministerial berths in the coalition Government.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) has retained one Cabinet berth unfilled, as there are many aspirants in both the Congress and JD(S) camps. The JD(S) has decided to keep the vacant berth which is its quota for now as filling up would lead to more dissensions in the already fragile coalition.

The Cabinet expansion exercise had become a headache for CM Kumaraswamy as there are many aspirants in both the parties.

Rumblings within the coalition Government became bigger after both the parties, who contested the LS polls jointly, received a severe drubbing at the hustings, with the BJP winning 25 out of the 28 seats in the State.

CM's son Nikhil and many senior Congress leaders tasted defeat in the just held 2019 LS polls.

Lady teacher shot dead

Jagadeesh hailed from Balyamanduru village that is over 10 kilometres from Balele.

Following the incident, Lions High School declared a holiday as a mark of respect to the departed teacher. Asha has two daughters who are studying in Bengaluru while Jagadeesh has a daughter who is married. Police and villagers said that Jagadeesh used to constantly harass Asha to marry him and she spurned her proposal. He used to come from Balyamanduru village to Balele daily and used to stalk Asha, Police said.

Asha lost her husband Chengappa three years back and even Jagadeesh was a widower. Jagadeesh was pestering Asha for marriage and Asha had filed a Police complaint against him at Ponnampet Police Station. This apart, Jagadeesh too has a couple of other cases against him at Gonikoppal and Ponnampet Police Stations, Police said.

Following Asha's complaint on serious charges, Jagadeesh was in Judicial Custody for over two months and had come out on bail.

A Court in Virajpet had yesterday pronounced a judgment against Jagadeesh in a financial dispute.

Ponnampet Police have registered a case in this regard.

Rs. 24 cr. in IMA jewels

The investors were asked to submit IMA share certificate, receipts pertaining to investment under marriage, education and business schemes, copy of agreement entered into with IMA and a copy of bank pass book, along with the complaint.

Till noon today, over 700 complaints were lodged at Udayagiri Police Station and the number is expected to go further up as more and more number of cheated investors are likely to lodge complaints after compiling all the documents available with them in the next few days, with no deadline set for lodging of complaints.

Zabeena Banu, a retired Government School teacher and a resident of HUDCO Layout, Udayagiri, had invested her retirement monetary benefits of Rs. 22.5 lakh in IMA, hoping a good return on her investment. Now with the firm shut, Banu is left deeply depressed and her dreams of constructing a house has been shattered.

The modus operandi of IMA is cheating people through religion. IMA assured the investors that their investment schemes were 'halaal' (permissible in Islam) or 'shariah'-compliant (interest-free transactions).

In this case too, the modus operandi was the same. IMA roped in local politicians, community leaders, moulvis and an army of agents to brainwash the community into believing that they were shareholders of the company and would get high return on investments.

Govt. ignored RBI warning

The IMA scam smacks of a larger criminal nexus as the company survived for 13 years despite an alert by Reserve Bank of India and a forfeiture notice by the State Government, due to its "high connections". In 2015, the RBI has sent alert to the state government warning that the IMA group was only a scam-in-the-making.

But no action was taken by the Police, which instead sent a report stating they could not take action under the Karnataka Protection of Interest of Depositors in Financial Establishment's (KPID) Act, as the investors were giving funds as "partners" and not "depositors". The funding was under limited liability partnership (LLP).

In Nov. 2018, RBI once again wrote to the government to investigate into the activities of IMA. The assistance commissioner of revenue department, which was probing into all ponzi companies to attach their properties, issued a forfeiture notice against IMA in newspapers, calling the attention of the investors to the fraudulent activities of the company.

The public notice also named 16 entities including Mansoor Khan, and asked the people to provide information about their movable and immovable assets. However, the police did not file an FIR citing procedural issues. A buzz in the political circle is that the scam was an open secret, but fearing the nexus and the backlash from the community during the elections, nobody tried to blow the lid off this scam.

Captain Abhijit Ramesh is the son of Ramesh Sriranganathan, retd. Chief Engineer at Karnataka Power Corporation & Revathi Ramesh, a housewife.

Nipah has not tiptoed to Mysuru, say officials

Paramedical staff distributing pamphlets at city Railway Station Health Kiosk.

Mysuru, June 14 (MTY&BCT)- With batches of people in Ernakulam District of Kerala, hit by killer Nipah virus, being removed from the surveillance list, the Mysuru district officials are breathing easy and according to them, as of now there is no Nipah scare in Mysuru. However, they are alert and ready to combat the disease, they claim.

Not a single case of Nipah has been reported in Mysuru despite hundreds of people arriving to Mysuru from neighbouring Kerala. All the people, including those coming in buses are being screened and suspicious fever and cough cases are being tested regularly at Bavali Check Post in H.D. Kote.

The focus of Mysuru Health Department is H.D. Kote and that is why the special counter has been set up at Bavali. All vehicles entering Mysuru are being screened and droopy persons are being checked for symptoms. In some cases, their blood samples are collected and sent to laboratory for checks.

H.D. Kote is the hub of tribal Haadis and the tribals cross the border to buy vegetables in Kerala and people from Kerala come to H.D. Kote to consume liquor as booze is banned in Kerala. As such there is a constant movement of people from both States. "Taluk Health Officer Dr. Ravikumar and his team of six experts and medical staff are stationed at Bavali and we are also visiting tribal Haadis to see if patients are ill or if they have fever," said District Health Officer Dr. R. Venkatesh.

Along with screening patients, awareness pamphlets are being distributed in all sensitive areas. The pamphlets printed in Kannada, English and Malayalam are being distributed among locals, Keralites and tourists.

Forty-seven of the 330 people who have had direct/ indirect contact with the Nipah patients and were under home quarantine have been removed from the surveillance list in Ernakulam district. For the rest, the incubation period for any viral fever will be ending in the coming days and they will be released from home quarantine depending on their health status, said officials from Kerala.

The Kerala Government will take a decision on declaring the Ernakulam district free of Nipah in the coming days after all the people who had come in contact with the Nipah-positive persons are free of the threat, they added.

Mysuru District Surveillance Officer Dr. Kusuma said that the Health Department had planned to set up special counters at tourist spots in city but shelved the plan as it would create panic. "We will remain alert till the Kerala Government declares its districts Nipah-free. Till then there will be constant monitoring at all places including Railway Station, Bus Stands and tourist spots," she added.

K.R. Hospital doctors condemn assault on doctors in West Bengal

In response to an 'All India Protest Day' call given by the Indian Medical Association (IMA) in protest against the brutal assault on two doctors at a Medical College and Hospital in West Bengal after the death of a patient, the doctors at K.R. Hospital in city registered their protest by wearing black bands around their arms this morning.

Mysuru businessman commits suicide at Nanjangud

Ramesh

Nanjangud, June 14 (RS&KS)- A businessman from Mysuru, unable to bear the harassment of financiers, has allegedly committed suicide by hanging self at a room of a lodge on Angadi Beedhi in Nanjangud yesterday.

The deceased is Ramesh (45), son of Dasegowda and a resident of T.K. Layout in Mysuru.

As Ramesh did not come out of the room even in the evening, the staff of the lodge checked the room and found Ramesh hanging and informed the Police.

Nanjangud Circle Inspector Shekar and staff rushed to the spot and conducted mahazar.

Circle Inspector Shekar, speaking to SOM said that during preliminary investigation they came to know that Ramesh was into liquor trade and had taken loans from private financiers and was unable to repay the loans, which had led him to take the extreme step.

The body was shifted to the Taluk Hospital mortuary where post-mortem was conducted today and the body was later handed over to the family members.

Nanjangud Town Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

According to the complaint lodged by his father Raju at Alanahalli Police Station, Chandan left for school on June 3 and has not returned till date.

Chandan is 5 ft. tall, round faced, oily red complexioned, speaks Kannada and was wearing a red coloured half arm shirt and black pant at the time of going missing.

Labourer electrocuted

Mysuru, June 14 (SBD&KS)- A construction labourer, who was transporting iron rods to the terrace of a house at Beedi Colony in Azeez Sait Nagar here was electrocuted on Wednesday when an iron rod touched the power line.

The deceased is Prakash, a native of Gundlupet who was residing at Ghousianagar in city.

Deceased Prakash's wife in her complaint to Udayagiri Police has stated that despite the power line passing close to the roof of the house, owner Sheik Mohiuddin and Contractor Puttaraju had not taken any precautionary measures which resulted in the death of her husband.

Udayagiri Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Your vegetable biriyani has just got dearer !

Prices of rice, vegetables and greens go up, thanks to scanty rainfall and dry spell

Mysuru, June 14 (PM&BCT)- Think twice before you plan a grand meal of vegetable biriyani or vegetable pulav or vegetable rice bath as the prices of rice and vegetables have headed north burning a hole in your pocket. And blame deficit rainfall for sky-rocketing prices.

Due to a delayed monsoon, the price of rice has gone up sharply by Rs. 4 to Rs. 13 a kg for different varieties. The much preferred rice for an aromatic biriyani in Mysuru and Bengaluru regions are Sona Masoori and Kollam rice. Prices of raw Sona Masoori has gone up from Rs. 44 to Rs. 57 and Kollam rice has gone up from Rs. 64 to Rs. 72. Superior variety of Sona Masoori is being sold for Rs. 74 per kilo.

The price rise is attributed to the alarming slump in the production in the Upper Krishna Project and Tungabhadra command areas — the rice bowl areas of Karnataka which produce 60 percent of Karnataka's rice. This is where the brand Siruguppa rice comes from. Karnataka which produces about 4 million tonnes of rice each season has produced just 3 to 3.5 million tonnes this season.

Scientists and agriculture experts said that the trend of poor cultivation due to lack of rains began three years ago and it has peaked this year. There is a severe shortage of water in Tungabhadra region and there is a lack of moisture across Upper Krishna Project. Adding to the production slump is rising heat.

Even rice production in Tamil Nadu has been low this year due to deficient rainfall. So bad is the crisis in Tamil Nadu that the TN Government that has been exporting rice till last year has started importing rice, say traders at Shivarampet. Most of the rice that is gown in Siruguppa region is being sent to Tamil Nadu to meet the demand.

According to Vishnu of Old Santhepet Shivanna Rice Bhandar, the rice prices have been on the rise since 25 days. Even Sona Masoori steam rice costs Rs. 38 from the earlier prices of Rs. 34. Nellore Steam Rice that was sold at Rs. 3,300 per quintal now costs Rs. 3,600, Cauvery Steam from Rs. 3,400 to Rs. 3,900, Sona Masoori Raw from Rs. 4,400 to 5,700, Kollam rice is being sold from Rs. 6,400 to Rs. 7,200 per quintal. The cost of other varieties like Kollam Bullet rice, Basmati, Rajamudi, Red rice and Boiled rice too are rising, according to wholesale rice traders.

Vegetable prices too rise

Along with rising rice prices, rates of vegetables and greens have also increased. The Devaraja Market in city that is a hub of vegetable business has witnessed steep price rice since the last couple of days. Moreover, vendors and people have complained that even if they pay high prices, they are not getting good stuff.

Greens are the worst hit with the quantity and quality coming down. A bunch of coriander leaves that was sold for Rs. 15 and Rs. 20 is now costing Rs. 40 per bundle. But the leaf bundles have shrunk in size despite high prices, say buyers.

The prices of vegetables are high owing to marriage season and due to deficit in rainfall. Normally during the end of May and till the end of July and August, vegetable prices are low as it would rain as per season and fresh vegetables come to the market. This year due to shortage of rain and due to dry spell, there is a slump in production.

A bunch of methi leaves that was sold for Rs. 5 last week is being sold for Rs. 10, Pudina bunch that was being sold for Rs. 10 is now being sold for Rs. 20. A kilogram of beans costs Rs. 120 to Rs. 140 from the earlier Rs. 80. Brinjal from Rs. 20 has gone up to Rs. 35, Knol Khol from Rs. 40 has gone up to Rs. 60, Radish from Rs. 20 to Rs. 30, Tomato costs between Rs. 45 and Rs. 50, Onion costs Rs. 31 and Rs. 34, Carrot costs Rs. 51 and Rs. 56, Beetroot costs Rs. 24 and Rs. 27.

Mysuru receives vegetables from Hunsur, Bilikere, Varuna, K.R. Nagar and surrounding areas. Earlier, truckloads of vegetables used to come from outer areas of Mysuru. Now all those areas have been converted into residential layouts.

Kumar of Devaraja Market predicts that the prices will continue to rise in the coming days and they might come down only after rain starts. "This is for the first time, Mysuru is seeing a jump in vegetable prices during June. And this is due to lack of rainfall and continuous dry spell," he added.

Intimidation to DC: Court to hear case from Aug. 13

Special Public Prosecutors appointed

C. Shikha

Mysuru, June 14 (SB-D&BCT)- The Third Chief Judicial Magistrate's Court in Mysuru will hear the case where former Deputy Commissioner (DC) of Mysuru C. Shikha was abused in public, preventing her from discharging her official duties. The Court has posted the hearing to Aug. 13.

Former Zilla Panchayat President K. Marigowda, who is also a close aide of former CM Siddharamaiah, Manjunath and others are the accused in the case. The case came up for hearing yesterday and an application was filed to appoint G.V. Ramamurthy and R. Girijesh as Special Public Prosecutors.

Allowing the appointments, the Court asked the Prosecutors to examine the accused and the witnesses in the case and posted the hearing to Aug. 13. The Court also asked the Police to produce the CD and other documents that have the recording and details of the incident.

On July 3, 2016, Shikha, who is now the Managing Director of BESCOM at Bengaluru, alleged that Marigowda and his associates had verbally abused and threatened her outside the Government Guest House in Mysuru at an Iftar party which was being attended by the then CM Siddharamaiah. Shikha was on protocol duty at that event when Marigowda and his associates allegedly tried to block her from entering the place and also used abusive language. Marigowda, known for his proximity to the then CM, had questioned the DC about certain administrative matters. When the officer refused to offer an explanation, he allegedly issued threats and used abusive language and blocked her entry.

After the incident, Shikha lodged a complaint against Marigowda and four of his supporters at Nazarbad Police Station. The Police investigation team, led by Devaraja Sub-Division ACP Rajashekar, had submitted a 45-page chargesheet against Marigowda, Manjunath, Ananda, Siddaraju and Basavaraju. The chargesheet was submitted to the Third Chief Judicial Magistrate's Court.

Nazarbad Police had booked the accused under IPC Section 341 (punishment for wrongful restraint), Section 353 (assault or criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of his/her duty), Section 504 (intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of the peace) and IPC Section 506 (punishment for criminal intimidation).

Marigowda, who had been absconding since the incident, was forced to surrender before Nazarbad Police on Aug. 3, 2016, after the Karnataka High Court rejected his bail plea. He had spent 22 days in judicial custody before obtaining bail.

India - New Zealand tie abandoned due to rain

Trent Bridge, June 14- The clash between the two unbeaten sides of the tournament, India and New Zealand, turned out to be a damp squib. The match was called off without the toss being made due to rain at Trent Bridge yesterday.

The umpires officially called off the match at 7.30 pm (IST) and it was the fourth wash out of this tournament, third one this week. With not much hope of getting the ground ready in time, the officials saw sense in calling off the match around an hour ahead of the cut-off. India and New Zealand take a point each from this fixture.

New Zealand lead the points table with 7 points from four games, followed by Australia with 6 points from four games. India is placed third with 5 points from three games, while hosts England is in the fourth place with four points from their three games.

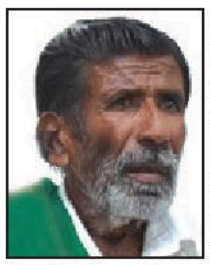
Students learn to prepare Seed Balls at workshop

Mysuru, June 14 (US&PM)- Janachetana Trust and Swadeshi Jagaran Manch together had organised a workshop on 'preparation of seed balls' at the premises of Gopalaswamy Shishu Vihara Shikshana Samsthe premises near Nanjumalige on Tuesday.



Kamegowda

Inaugurating the programme, the 82-year-old Lake Messiah Kere Kamegowda of Dasanadoddi in BG Pura hobli of Malavalli taluk District asked the students in a humble tone to save water bodies and trees without which the land will be totally barren.

Kamegowda is a true environmentalist sans any publicity who has ventured to build 14 Lakes and has won many awards including the Rajyotsava award for his remarkable achievement.

Interacting with the students, Kamegowda expressed his love and concern for the environment in his own inimitable rural style. "I did not construct Lakes for myself but for the younger generation, as I am very old now. You should love and protect environment. There is no point in depending on politicians for every development. One should revere a tree than Shiva and Ganga.

Hence, trees and water should be protected. Not taking care of them has resulted in scanty rainfall and drought everywhere. Children should convince their parents on this concept and evolve a big movement," he suggested.

Trust President Prasanna N. Gowda opined that tributaries of main rivers should be protected. Stating that the 'Seed Ball Campaign' would be of great help to grow more trees, he said that it was proposed to plant about two lakh seed balls of 250 varieties at Mullugudda near Nanjangud. Another 10,000 saplings too would be planted at various places.

Swadeshi Jagaran Manch State Convenor N.R. Manjunath was present on the occasion.

WORD OF THE DAY

Sophistry

Pronunciation: SAH-fuh-stree.

Meaning: Subtly deceptive reasoning or argumentation; an argument apparently correct in form but actually invalid; especially : such an argument used to deceive.

Origin: The original Sophists were ancient Greek teachers of rhetoric and philosophy prominent in the 5th century B.C.E. In their heyday, these philosophers were considered adroit in their reasoning, but later philosophers (particularly Plato) described them as sham philosophers, out for money and willing to say anything to win an argument. Thus, sophist—which can be traced back, via the Greek sophistēs ("wise man" or "expert") and sophizesthai ("to become wise"), to sophos, meaning "clever" or wise"—earned a negative connotation as "a captious or fallacious reasoner."

Example: The newspaper editorial warned readers to beware politicians who use sophistry to convince voters to support policies not in their own best interests.

THE ODD WORD

Solipsism

Self-centeredness

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Sent to Coventry

Meaning: To be ignored or ostracised. This behaviour often takes the form of pretending that the shunned person, although conspicuously present, can't be seen or heard.

Origin: The origins of this phrase aren't known, although it is quite probable that events in Coventry in the English Civil War in the 1640s play a part. For those not familiar with the UK, Coventry is an industrial city in Warwickshire, England. It is well-known for its two cathedrals; the modern cathedral being built in 1962 to replace the old cathedral, which was destroyed during an intense German bombing raid in 1940.

In the 17th century, when this phrase is supposed to have originated, Coventry was a small town. It has been suggested that the phrase, although we now use it in an allusory sense, originated from people being actually sent there. The first known citation of the allusory meaning is from the Club Book of the Tarporley Hunt, 1765: "Mr. John Barry having sent the Fox Hounds to a different place to what was ordered ... was sent to Coventry, but return'd upon giving six bottles of Claret to the Hunt."
